There is to be dictated instead of one of the head worked on the newsor report he dictated the speech he is later in the convention. This was most important. while it was shorter, it took a good deal more time to construct and revise. The Colonel considered this a declaration of principles. While he went over it he locked himself in a littlen rivate room and studied it with the istmost care. Then he stuck it in his pecked like a soldler would thrust a newly sharpened sword into his scabbard, and went forth to the fray I was then I o'clock the hour set for the reconvening of the convention. What he did with that declaration and the stir it made is well known. The outcome was entirely entstocked to the Colonel.
